A close observer who expressed surprise a few days ago at the small number of Dillonites going to the summer resorts this year should remember that a person hardly has time to get settled at a summer resort between the races. A few more racing circuits in the state would put the summer resorts out of business.

Mr. L. Edwards who was so painfully injured in the races at Darlington is able to be out again after a confinement of several weeks. Mr. Edwards is still unable to walk without the aid of crutches and it will be several weeks before he can use his foot. The injured member is healing rapidly, however.

He suffered no fatigue from the journey back home and was able to partake of his dinner at the table Tuesday.

The Gaitley-Tolar Co., that has been doing a retail grocery business in the Brick building on Main St., filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy Tuesday. The amount of the liabilities and assets has not been learned. The friends of the enterprising young proprietors trust that their financial embarrassment is only temporary and that they will soon be open for business again.

Mr. W. H. Flowers of Rowland has accepted the position of chief of police at Dillon. Mr. Flowers has been chief at Rowland for several years. Prior to going to Rowland he was chief at Fayetteville for about 15 years. He comes well recommended as an efficient and fearless officer. He will move his family to Dillon in a few days. Mr. F. B. Fenegan who has been acting chief will take his former place as night officer.

She has been teaching at the Central High School in Kansas City and comes highly recommended by the faculty of that institution.

The Herald wants to remind its delinquent subscribers again of those statements sent out last week. Quite a number of subscribers sent in their remittances promptly while others called at the office and paid in person, but still there are quite a number who have made no response at all. This is the time of year The Herald needs money to meet its own obligations and we trust that those of our readers who have not sent in their remittances will do so at once. Individually the amounts are small but collectively they amount to quite a large sum. So do not neglect yours because you think the others will pay and yours will not be missed.

Hon. J. E. Ellerbe who has been confined at Providence Hospital in Washington two months suffering from a broken leg will return to his home at Marion the latter part of the week. During his confinement Mr. Ellerbe contracted a case of pneumonia from which he is now almost entirely recovered.

Since the above was written a dispatch from Washington says Mr. Ellerbe is suffering from incipient consumption. His condition is not alarming, but his physicians recommend an immediate change to a lighter climate. Mr. Ellerbe's lungs have been weak for some time and this combined with the recent case of pneumonia has developed a mild form of consumption. After spending a few days at home Mr. Ellerbe will probably go to Asheville.

In the Toils of the Law.

'Squire Pages' court was packed to overflowing Tuesday afternoon with a varied assortment of humanity to hear the case of Cook vs. West and Faircloth. According to the evidence it seems that some months ago one of Faircloth's daughters married a Cook. There was some trouble between the families on account of the alliance and a warrant was sworn out against young Cook. Mr. West was asked to serve the warrant and in company with Mr. Faircloth went to the home of Jesse Cook, father of the groom, to serve the warrant. Young Cook took refuge in a room and the elder Cook ordered the officers from the house. The officers did not make an exit as quickly as the Cook's thought proper and a general alarm was sent out to all the other Cooks in the neighborhood to come and assist in the ejection proceedings. Then the women took a hand, pandemonium reigned and the gallant officers who had never flinched under the fire of lead were not brave enough to withstand the onslaught of hoopskirts and feminine fury, and beat an orderly but rapid retreat to a place of safety. The net result of this hard-fought battle of words and threats was a warrant and a trial in 'Squire Pages' court Tuesday afternoon. It took the jury fully ten minutes to decide that the defendants were not guilty.
